London Financial Times on Northern Securities Case.

Discussing the suggestion that decision against railways in the Northern Securities suit would have serious results on our situation, the London Financial Times remarks: "We cannot bring ourselves to believe that the issue of the case can have any lasting effect upon business. A decision adverse to the company might disturb Stock Exchange business temporarily, but as there is comparatively little real business being transacted, that effect would not be of serious consequence. On the other hand, such a decision should logically foster the interstate commerce of the country, as it would prove the readiness of the legislature to protect such commerce from any restraint which might be put upon it by a monopoly of transportation facilities. It is more than probable that the influence of the Northern Securities case and its decision upon the market will be neither serious nor long-lived. "There are, however, three distinct factors in the present situation other than the Northern Securities case which tend to prevent any of the leading interests from inaugurating a new buying movement. The first is the presidential election next year, the second the too-rapid manufacture of new railroad securities, and the third the unsatisfactory business outlook. The elections generally tend to reduce the confidence of operators in the stock market, and this one will prossibly preve no exception. At present it appears that no vital point of policy will be at issue, and the disturbance of trade and speculation may therefore be reduced to a minimum; but no great outbreak of activity can be looked for while the election overshadows

Show Small Advances. To corresponding day last year NEW YORK, Jan. 9 .- Prices made small addiional advances in to-day's stock market on a fair volume of business. Damage to the private wire service and interruption of the outside quotation service by tickers had little effect upon the volume of business, indicating the largely professional character of the trading and the large proportion of busines originating on the floor of the Stock Exchange itself. Amalgamated Copper continued active and strong, and the Pacifics, grangers, coalers, trunk lines and prominent industrials made uniform advances. The closing was steady, but slightly

The main influence upon the advance in prices was the more cheerful tone of foreign markets and a feeling of restrained hopefulness over a | U. S. Leather pref. possibly peaceful outcome to negotiations in the Russo-Japanese affairs.

The bank statement also met expectations in the cash item, which showed an increase of over $10,000,000. The continued expansion of loans to the extent of $7,421,700 was not received with so much satisfaction and induced some conjecture as to the source of the borrowing. It was suggested by some banking authorities that the low rate to which interest in New York has declined has induced some reduction of trust company and out-of-town banking loans which had to be taken up by the clearing-house banks.

STRENGTH IN STERLING EXCHANGE. It is known that the midweek strength in sterling exchange was partly caused by remittances to take up Lake Shore notes which were placed abroad a year ago, and this may have involved some borrowing from New York banks. London discounts continue to advance, but the weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany made a strong showing and sterling exchange at that center advanced.

The opening week of the new year in the stock market has proved somewhat disappointing to those who bought stocks in the last weeks of for securities with the turn of the year, and the resultant easing of the money market. Attempts to take profits by these previous buyers have proved an overweight upon the market, and some sharp declines have resulted.

liminution of the selling pressure and siuggish recoveries. The acute state reached in the far Eastern war situation and the passing of the United States Steel dividend on the common stock and the poor showing of earnings made by the corporation for the December quarter have been important contributory causes to the light demand for stocks and to the disposition of speculators long of stocks to lessen their hold-The action of the United States Steel directors n discontinuing the dividend on the common ck had been accurately foreseen in speculative circles, but the great decrease in net earnings for the quarter proved a trying thing for stockholders, verifying, as it did, about the worst intimations circulated by the bears before the publication.

Current trade reports were not calculated to factory terms. It is believed that railroads are | Wheeling & Lake Erie 4s still dissatisfied with the price of steel rails and reports were current that concessions were being made from the official schedule of prices. The preferred stock of the corporation, how ever, made some resistance to pressure on buying attributed to supporting orders by the banking interests associated with the corporation. Specu lators gave some attention to the argument that the depression in the price of the stock was sufficient to discount the unfavorable condition in the trade, and that better results were to be xpected from economics by wage reductions. eports of discontent on the part of some of the wages partly offset this argument.

mployes and threats of strikes against reduced There were signs also that the fears of the efect of hostilities between Japan and Russia had reached a climax. The influence of these fears was conspicuous in all the speculative markets during the week, both here and abroad, and the lew York stock market had to absorb large offerings of American securities for foreign ac-POSSIBLE EFFECTS OF WAR.

The action of prices made clear that war is expected to benefit the market for our food products, wheat rising sharply on all war reports, while cotton ran off as sharply on the belief that war in the far East would affect the Chinese demand for cotton cloth.

From the financial standpoint there is little | bills, $4.81@4.81.50. apprehension of any direct effects upon our markets. Holdings of Russian securities in this country are limited in amount, it is believed, to about $15,000,000, principally by some of the nsurance companies for the purpose of complying with Russian laws for doing business in that country. French holdings of Russian government and industrial securities, however, are known to be very large. There was the probability that the entry upon a war by Russia would develop money requirements in Paris. As the French capital is very heavily committed to the London financial paper market, large withdrawals of French capital from London might be apprehended, which would presumably pread to other money markets Sterling exchange in New York has, in fact, advanced sharply, after some engagements of gold in London for import early in the week But sterling has also risen in Paris, in spite of a decline in the stock of gold in the Bank of France for the week. Foreign money markets have grown easier with the turn of the year and the usual large repayments of loans have

Official intimations have been given that the New York Central does not intend any immediate financing to provide for its terminal improvements, but a Rock Island refunding issue is officially intimated for an early date. The successful subscription for $10,000,000 of bonds of one of the Pennsylvania subsidiary companies ex-

It is believed that this and other new issues offering are attracting capital which might otherwise find its way into issues on the Stock Exchange, the demand for which has failed to show the stimulation usual at the period of annual dividend and interest disbursements. A feature of the week has been an active speclation in a group of minor railroad stocks in which there is a large common ownership, with | Official quotations: accompanying rumors of a proposed combination which have received no authentic verification. The movement of bond prices has been sluggish and iregular. United States twos, registered, have declined 14 per cent. on call during the week. Sales and the range:

UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. -Hogs-The receipts to-day were larger than week ago and nearly up to the average for turday, but considerably smaller than heretofore this week and almost 2,000 smaller than a year ago. As usual for several days the market opened with all buyers in the field, and, being two years ago. Receipts thus far this year as anxious to execute their orders, the bidding at the start was animated and the trading was active at fully steady to strong prices compared with those prevailing at the close yesterday, but generally 5c lower than yesterday morning. It soon developed that shipping orders were not as liberal as they have been, and when packers discovered this a weaker tendency immediately developed in the market. Toward the close of the day the bidding was more cautious, and finally with packers alone in the market, they not enough at all times to develop the true conforced salesmen to accept fully 5c lower prices than those prevailing at the start. There were not many came in late, however, and therethe average for the day was not materially ected by the later transactions. The extreme age in sales was from $4.75@5.10, and the bulk the supply sold at $4.85@5.05. Quotations: od to choice medium to heavy $4.95@5.10 xed and heavy packing ...

There has been a satisfactory hog trade this week, and the former good reputation of this and they reciprocated by paying relatively higher As usual for some time past there were frequent fluctuations in prices, but the conditions most of the time were favorable to the selling side, and a net gain of about 10c in prices for the week was made as compared with the close of last week. As will be noticed in another column the average weight this week has been good and did not fall below 265 lbs for any day. A feature of the market this week has been the demand from outside sources, shippers having purchased about 4,000 more than last week, while packers bought only about 500 more. The top price did not fall below $5 any day in the week, and the extreme price was $5.15, which is 75c higher than the low time the latter part of November. The first two days of the week there was a gain of 10@15c in prices, but on Wednesday values were back in about the same position as at the close of last week. On Thursday anof 10@15c was made, but at the extreme close of the week fully 5c of this had been lost. The

The Cattle Market.

The receipts of cattle to-day were larger than narily would have been a good excuse for a lower market, but the quality was about up to the standard represented heretofore this week, and with a very fair demand from nearly all buyers, salesmen succeeded in preventing any material change in a general way. In fact, there was a fully steady to strong market for the fat steers to sell a shade lower. Bulls were steady, as were also calves, compared with yesterday. Sales included steers at $3.55@5, helfers at $3.25@4.25, with several around $3.75, medium to good cows. at $3@3.65, canners and cutters at $1.50@2.75, bulls at $3@3.60 and calves at $3@7.50. Thus far this year, as well as for the month to date, the receipts | keys, 12@13c; chickens, 10%c; springs, 10%c. were 2,250 larger than the same period last year. There has been a good run of cattle this week, I but while comparatively liberal the supplies have not been excessive. Average quality has been represented most of the week and a number of top kinds in their class were represented, but the proportion of this class of cattle has not been arge and in some departments very small. the general fat steer market developed some weakness, but this was immediately followed by a steady market and at the extreme close of the week prices were in practically the same position that they were at the close of last week. Top prices paid this week were $5.35 for fat steers, $4.25 for feeders, $4.60 for helfers, $4 for cows, $4 for bulls and $7.75 for calves.

The Sheep Market.

The receipts to-day were fully as large as expected at this time in the week and, in fact, a little above the average for Saturday. The quality was again satisfactory, and, although shippers had no opposition in the market, they were rather free buyers, and steady prices were secured as compared with those prevailing heretofore this week. Most of the lambs here sold at $5.50%6, with more at $6 than any other price, and ordinary lambs sold as low as $5. Most of the good sheep sold at $3.50, culls as low as $2 and bucks at $3. GRAINS GO STILL LOWER

MORE PEACEFUL WAR NEWS RE-SULTS IN CONTINUED LIQUIDATION.

Domestic Situation Somewhat Bearish,

Too-Corn Declines in Sympathy

-Provisions Lower.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 .- Heavy liquidation, due to more peaceful news from the far East, resulted in a severe setback to wheat prices to-day. May wheat closed 14@1%c lower than last night's figures. May corn is down %6 %c, and oats wallie. Provisions are 10@30c lower. Before trading began reports indicated that another effort would be made to avert hostilities over Korea. British consols showed an advance, while foreign grain markets reported declines. There was considerable wheat for sale here at the start, and May was 40%c to 40%c lower, at 8614c to 87c.

A little support from the leading longs sent May up to $76875c, but offerings were so liberal that the demand from that source was soon satisfied and the market eased off again. Later in the day the bull operator became an open seller and prices slumped badly, May declining to 85%@85%c. DOMESTIC SITUATION BEARISH.

The domestic situation was moderately bearing expected for Monday. Receipts were large caused some recovery late in the day, but the entiment continued weak and May closed at Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 207,700 bu. Primary receipts were 865,000 against 606, 100 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 572 cars, against 612 cars last week and 427 cars a year ago. CORN DOWN IN SYMPATHY. Corn was comparatively firm early in the day, due to small receipts and the poor quality of the corn coming in, together with the higher Liverpool market. With the big decline in wheat the corn market was dragged down in sym-

Offerings, however, were not large and came mostly from small holders. May opened 1/4c to 1/4c lower at 1/7c to 1/1/4c, and after selling at 47%c the price declined to 46%c, closing at 46%0 47c. Local receipts were 365 cars one of contract grade. OATS LITTLE WEAKER. Oats weakened along with wheat but there was not much enthusiasm on the short side for the reason that the big line held by the leading long is still intact. An improvement in the shipping demand also tended to restrict offerings. to 39%c, sold between 39%c and 39%@39%c, closing at 39%c. Local receipts were 19 cars. PROVISIONS DECLINE. Provisions were weak, influenced at the start reached, which increased the weakness.

by a decline in the price of hogs, and later by the slump in grains. The selling was quite general, and as prices declined stop-loss orders were pork closed 30 cents lower, at $12.80. May lard was off 121/2c, at $6.80, and ribs were down 10c at Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat cars; corn, 395 cars; oats, 110 cars; hogs, 49,000
